Dear Parishioners:

Happy Independence Day! A day to remember our liberty and rejoice that we live freely. It is a time of picnics and fireworks, celebrations and homecomings.

Sadly the celebration of our 4th of July was recently marred right here in our Town of East Greenwich. Just last week many homes in our local neighborhoods were littered with pamphlets that contained a racist rant. Of course they were distributed anonymously as is always the way with cowards.

So often we think of other places when we think of racism. Places far from our own homes. So often we think of other people when we think of racism. People very unlike ourselves. However, when such racist vitriol and hatred strikes so close to home we must reconsider our own attitudes and the attitudes of our entire community.

This hateful act comes just as our nation continues to mourn the nine people murdered by a racist maniac in Charleston, South Carolina. Earlier this month the US Bishops gathering in St. Louis reminded us that "racism is an evil which endures in our society and in our church."

This hateful and racist literature must always be condemned and called for what it truly is, moral evil. Writing it, passing it out and supporting it is a grave sin. Unfortunately the cowards who made this literature are likely never to be known.

As Catholics we must make it part of our faith lives to end any racism that exists in our homes, schools, neighborhoods, and churches. We must pray for the conversion of all those who hate others simply because the color of their skin that they might respect the dignity of every human person.

If we reach out to our African-American neighbors and all those of other races and stand together as brothers and sisters then the cowards who promote such racist hatred might begin to realize that they are unwelcome and unwanted in East Greenwich!

Of course while East Greenwich was dealing with this unfortunate incident of racism, the US Supreme Court ruled that same-sex marriage is a constitutional right. While many seem to be rejoicing is such a decision, it is truly a troubling event for those of us who hold to the traditional view of marriage. This includes not only the Catholic Church but the many faithful of other religious groups in the Protestant Community, the Orthodox Church, Mormon Community, Orthodox Judaism and Islam.

This decision has many implications far beyond who can and cannot be married. The narrow decision simply casts aside the Biblical and Christian view about the true nature of marriage as nothing more than mere bigotry. It also raises many serious questions about religious liberty and personal conscience for millions of Americans and their faith communities.

As Archbishop Joseph E.

Kurtz, President of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops stated: "I encourage Catholics to move forward with faith, hope, and love: faith in the unchanging truth about marriage, rooted in the immutable nature of the human person and confirmed by divine revelation; hope that these truths will once again prevail in our society, not only by their logic, but by their great beauty and manifest service to the common good; and love for all our neighbors, even those who hate us or would punish us for our faith and moral conviction."

And finally, in the midst of such a tumultuous week, the RI General Assembly ended their legislative session rather abruptly. While the state budget had previously passed, much more legislation was left behind on the desk as our state leaders adjourned.

Thankfully before adjournment the General Assembly did restore funding for the textbook loan program and busing that helps Catholic and private school families. They also fixed the state's healthcare exchange program by allowing for coverage that excludes abortion in the plans. And thankfully the attempt to legalize physician assisted suicide died legislatively!

Much to think about on this 4th of July as we celebrate liberty and freedom! Pray for our nation. God Bless. God Bless America. Happy Fourth of July!

Father Healey

Dear Eric: Why are seminarians assigned to parishes in the summer?

There is only so much an individual can learn in the classroom. The remainder needs to come from hands-on experience in a specific situation. That is the purpose of my summer assignment here at Our Lady of Mercy. It is essentially a summer internship.

In addition to getting experience in the parish, it is also meant to serve as a means of getting experience in rectory living. While priests may not live in community like those in religious life, it is still important for the seminarian to learn the complete parish experience. Today a parish being staffed with multiple priests is becoming a rarity so getting to live in such a busy rectory is truly a unique privilege.

I found out I was coming to Our Lady of Mercy this past Holy Thursday. It has become a tradition in our diocese for Bishop Tobin to spend Holy Thursday with his seminarians as it is a celebration of not only the institution of the Eucharist, but the institution of the priesthood as well. We all gather for dinner and mass. At dessert, the Bishop distributes our envelopes containing the parish placement for the ten week summer assignment. After successful completion of the academic year and after contacting the pastor of the parish to coordinate logistics, the summer assignment begins.

Seminarian duties in a parish vary depending on placement, but generally are very similar. Here at OLM, I generally serve at all masses and liturgies. I helped out at Vacation Bible School, visited and talked vocations to all the classes in the school, when it was in session. I visit the sick and shut-ins, attend all parish activities and groups, give reflections to different groups, and of course write a weekly column in the bulletin amongst other things. At the end of the assignment the seminarian is evaluated by the pastor and that report significantly contributes to his ongoing formation.

Outside of the seminary or parish assignment, existence is very much "normal." Sure mass and prayer need to be the center of the seminarian's day but other activities can occupy his free time. Reading books, watching television, playing sports, going to the movies and hanging out with friends are all part of the average day in the life of a seminarian.

OLM Summer Seminarian Eric Silva is filling in for Fr. Connors for the next ten weeks. If you have a question about the Catholic Church, Catholic Teaching, or the life of a seminarian, please email all questions to parish@olmparish.org
