Dear Parishioners:

It's good to be home! My pilgrimage to Rome was truly an enjoyable and inspirational time. I was able to offer Mass for you and your intentions at St. Peter's Basilica and St. Paul's Basilica in Rome during the week. Also last Saturday I had the great privilege to celebrate Mass at the Basilica of St. Francis in Assisi and on Sunday morning at the Catacombs of St. Callixtus.

These were truly prayerful and faithful moments on this time of pilgrimage. The celebrant of the Mass at St. Peter's was Cardinal William Levada who is the former prefect of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith. His Eminence gave a truly inspirational homily to our group of State Catholic Conference Directors. It helped that he served as the California Catholic Conference Director in the 1980s.

Our group was granted special tickets to Pope Francis' Wednesday Audience. We were seated very near the Holy Father in St. Peter's Square. The Wednesday Audience was an incredible event. A Vatican Official informed us that they had given out 92,000 tickets for the audience that day and another 25,000 came without tickets!

St. Peter's Square was packed and we had to make our way there through the crowd. We left at 8:00AM in order to make it to the 10:00AM audience! Pilgrims from across the globe gathered to listen to Pope Francis' warm welcome and inspirational message and to pray with our spiritual leader. The energy and enthusiasm of the crowd was truly contagious!

Pope Francis spoke of the Blessed Virgin Mary as the model of faith. As I listened to his profound message it certainly seemed a very providential theme for the Pastor of Our Lady of Mercy, a parish under Mary's spiritual patronage.

The Holy Father went on to say: "How did Mary live this faith? She lived it out in the simplicity of the thousand daily tasks and worries of every mother, such as providing food, clothing, caring for the house. It was precisely Our Lady's normal life which served as the basis for the unique relationship and profound dialogue which unfolded between her and God, between her and her Son. Mary's "yes", already perfect from the start, grew until the hour of the Cross."

It was very apparent that Pope Francis was delighted by the crowd and at times responded with joy to the shouts of "Viva Il Papa!" After delivering his message, he greeted some of the assembled guests personally and then began to wade through the crowd to the handicapped pilgrims in the front row and then spent a considerable time greeting many of thousands of school children who were assembled throughout the crowd.

It was a beautiful sunny day and was actually quite hot but it did not deter the crowd of over 100,000 pilgrims from singing, praying and shouting out.

It made a Red Sox World Series Game look like a small pep rally!!!

While in Rome our group of State Catholic Conference Directors also met with various Vatican Officials to discuss Church-State Relations under Pope Francis. We met with Archbishop Muller, the Prefect of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, Cardinal Peter Turkson, President of the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace, Archbishop Rino Fisichella, President of the Pontifical Council for Promoting New Evangelization and Monsignor Peter Wells, the Assessor for General Affairs of the Vatican Secretariat of State.

Monsignor Wells is a priest from Oklahoma and serves as the Deputy Chief of Staff for Pope Francis. His insights into the Holy Father were very interesting. He told us that Rome has not seen such large crowds, usually 100,000 or more, and sustained crowds for the Papal Audience. He also noted that the lines for Confessions in St. Peter's Basilica have dramatically increased due largely to Pope Francis' message of mercy.

It was a jam packed week on Pilgrimage and I am happy to be home. I thank Fr. Connors for his very capable leadership of the parish during my absence. I urge you to please pray for the dead during this All Souls Month. By the time you read this column the Red Sox will be World Champions! God Bless. Have a great week.

Father Healey

The Catechism Corner

All of the Church's feasts and seasons are meant not only to be celebrations of some aspect of our Faith but also as teaching reminders of what we believe.

Thus, in the span of one liturgical year, we call to mind all the mysteries of our Catholic Faith and, by this very celebration of them, hope to come to a deeper understanding of what these mysteries mean for the daily living of our Faith. In this month of November, as we pray for all the souls of the faithful departed, we do this very same thing! On the one hand, we celebrate throughout this month the goodness and the mercy of God Himself. He has allowed these good souls to be judged worthy of Him. He has also judged them worthy of being cleansed in Purgatory before they enter into their eternal reward. And at the same time, this month of November reminds us of the goodness of our own soul and also its integral role in making us who we are. "The Church teaches that every spiritual soul is created immediately by God -- it is not 'produced' by the parents -- and also that it is immortal: it does not perish when it separates from the body at death, and it will be reunited with the body at the final Resurrection." Praying for the dead reminds us that while man is truly a unity of both body and soul, it is his soul alone which makes him immortal. The soul "lives on" after death. It might be in a way that we may not fully comprehend since all of us live with a body and soul united, but nonetheless, the soul has real existence after death. The soul is truly "that by which [man] is most especially in God's image." Being aware, then, of the importance of our praying for all the souls of the faithful departed who have gone on to the next life, makes us even more aware of our own need to care for our souls here in this life. For more "soul-searching," check it out in the Catechism of the Catholic Church #363-366.

OLM School News

• Holiday Shopping Night, Thursday December 5th: We are excited to announce Our Lady of Mercy School's 1st annual Holiday Shopping Night! Please join us for a fun and festive evening filled with beautiful handmade items and artwork from local crafters and artisans, as well as several independent consultants like Pampered Chef and SwissJust! Get your holiday shopping done early and celebrate the season in style! More details to follow...stayed tuned! If you or someone you know may be interested in having a display at this event, please contact Kathy Royce at royceri@verizon.net for more information

“Science in Motion” Educational Field Trip

This year, in lieu of Science Olympiad, Our Lady of Mercy's science program will offer an educational trip called “Science in Motion” in Orlando Florida this spring. Students experience hands on lessons such as “Discovering Marine Life Conservation” at EPCOT, “Properties of Motion” at the Magic Kingdom, and learn about “Sustainable Practices in Wildlife Conservation” at Animal Kingdom. They also enjoy lunch with an astronaut at Kennedy Space Center and be able to ask questions about the astronaut's experience in space. The science group will hold a bake sale after all masses this weekend to help defray some of the cost of the trip for the students attending. We appreciate your support!

Your Parish needs your help.

We are in need of adult men and women willing to serve as ushers on a regular basis at the Sunday 5:00PM Mass. If you are willing to help, can smile and welcome people to Mass, then you qualify. For more information
