Dear Parishioners:

This Third Sunday of Advent is known as "Gaudete Sunday." Its name is from the entrance antiphon of the Mass, which is: "Rejoice in the Lord always; again I say, rejoice. Indeed, the Lord is near." This antiphon is from Philipians, and in Latin, the first word of the antiphon is "Gaudete."

For much of the Church's history, this Sunday has been called "Gaudete" Sunday. The traditions surrounding this Sunday go back as far as the fourth or fifth century, as does the season of Advent itself.

Advent is the season of preparing for the arrival of the Lord Jesus (both his first coming and his second coming), and by the third Sunday of Advent, we are most of the way through the season. Thus it is appropriate to rejoice as we see the goal of the season approaching: "The Lord is near."

On Gaudete Sunday, the season of Advent shifts its focus. For the first two weeks of Advent, the focus is, "The Lord is coming." But beginning with Gaudete Sunday, it focuses upon, "The Lord is near." A heightened sense of joyous anticipation marks this shift.

Liturgically, the colors lighten, and the priest wears rose-colored vestments, a hue seen only on Gaudete Sunday and Laetare Sunday during Lent. On this day, we light the third candle of the Advent wreath, which is also rose-colored.

The word "Gaudete" is Latin for "Rejoice." When the focus of our anticipation is often on the negative and fearful, this celebration is a reminder that God who loves us is still in charge and that we await his coming not with fear and dread, but with tremendous faith and joy. As St. Paul reminds us:

"Brothers and sisters: Rejoice always. Pray without ceasing. In all circumstances give thanks, for this is the will of God for you in Christ Jesus."

So, why do we need a reminder to rejoice on the Third Sunday of Advent? Because the happiness that comes from holiday festivities, fun gatherings with friends, and a full belly, is not the same thing as Christian joy.

Pope Francis explains the difference between happiness and joy: "To be happy is good, yet joy is something more. It's another thing, something which does not depend on external motivations, or on passing things: it is more profound. It is a gift. 'To be happy at all moments, at all cost,' can at the end turn into superficiality and shallowness. This leaves us without Christian wisdom, which makes us dumb, naïve, right? All is joy. No, joy is something else; it is a gift from the Lord."

If joy is a gift from the Lord, then the Lord Himself is our first and greatest gift and the only one that will never tarnish or break or fade. Gaudete Sunday reminds us that the gift has not yet arrived, but it's very near.

"Rejoice in the Lord always. I shall say it again, Rejoice!" Gaudete Sunday is a moment to stop and reflect on the source of real joy. And if the Advent season has brought causes for stress and sorrow into our life, then lighting the rose candle is an opportunity to take heart and refocus with joy upon Christ.

As you've seen in the media, a COVID vaccine seems to be coming soon. This past week we received a letter from Bishop Tobin and guidance from the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops about the vaccine. There were some questions and confusion if the vaccines developed by Pfizer and Moderna were morally permissible to use.

However, the USCCB states: "Neither the Pfizer nor the Moderna vaccine involved the use of cell lines that originated in fetal tissue taken from the body of an aborted baby at any level of design, development, or production."

And while we welcome the vaccine, questions remain about the priority in determining who receives the vaccine. Also, questions remain about how it is to be distributed justly and equitably around the world, especially in poorer nations. I have posted the statement on the parish website if you wish to read it.

As we enter this Third Week of Advent and rejoice the "Lord is near," let's strive to pray with greater devotion, give more generously to the poor and needy, and truly prepare the way with a good Sacramental Confession before Christmas! If we do, then we can genuinely "Rejoice in the Lord!"

Stay safe. Be Well. Do Good. God Bless. Oremus pro invicem.

Father Healey

Ask Father

Why is the Incarnation Important?

The Catechism of the Catholic Church lists several reasons why God became incarnate (457-460): The Word became flesh for us in order to save us by reconciling us with God, who “loved us and sent his Son to be the expiation for our sins.” The Word became flesh so that thus we might know God's love: “For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life.” The Word became flesh to be our model of holiness: “I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father, but by me.” The Word became flesh to make us partakers of the divine nature. “For this is why the Word became man, and the Son of God became the Son of man: so that man, by entering into communion with the Word and thus receiving divine sonship, might become a son of God.”

At Christmas time we focus particularly on the last of these reasons: that we might become sons and daughters of God. Remarkably God took to Himself our human nature. We can meditate on this reality from the point of view of God and from the point of view of humanity. From the standpoint of God our minds are filled with awe knowing that the omniscient, omnipresent, and omnipotent creator of the universe, who transcends time, squeezes himself in a manner of speaking, into a tiny, helpless baby. Similar thoughts can be had about the Mass and the transformation of the Eucharist.

From the standpoint of our humanity, St. Gregory Nazianus, one of the great Fathers and Doctors of the Church, responding to the heresy that Jesus Christ had not assumed a rational mind, said the following: “What has not been assumed has not been healed.” Other Church Fathers and theologians have spoken similarly. The correlation here is that whatever has been assumed has been healed and transformed. Hence, not just our rational mind, but every single inch of our humanity has been affected; even our past, present, and future. Our weaknesses and sins mask, deface, and hinder what lies below: the awesome potential of redeemed humanity. Of all the ways that God could have saved us and restored our relationship to him, he decided to take on our human nature. There is no greater gift than this!

Christmas is an exciting time precisely because we receive the greatest gift of all: the ability to become like Christ. May we inculcate that message into ourselves and everyone we meet.

3rd Sunday of Advent

The traditional name for the Third Sunday of Advent is Gaudete Sunday. The name comes from Gaudete in Domino semper, Latin for “Rejoice in the Lord always,” opening words of today’s entrance antiphon (brief scriptural text that is usually replaced by an opening hymn).

Because one of Advent’s tasks is to prepare us for Christ’s return at the end of time, this season once had a penitential quality similar to that of Lent. Gaudete Sunday with its rose vestments and relaxation of austerities softened the period and gave a glimpse of its fulfillment just as its counterpart, Laetare Sunday, did at the midpoint of Lent.

Viewed now as a season of devout and joyful expectation, Advent retains very little of its old penitential focus, but we still have the option of using the liturgical color of rose today as we rejoice that Christmas is near, and Christ’s second coming is nearer than it was yesterday.
